KANI JOURNAL OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

AUTHOR GUIDELINES

The Kani Journal of Social Sciences welcomes original scholarly contributions that fall within the journal's approved scope. Authors should ensure that manuscripts demonstrate originality, academic rigour, methodological soundness, and clear relevance to the field.

Manuscript Preparation

Manuscripts should be prepared using the official KANI Manuscript Template and should be written clearly and consistently.

A manuscript should normally include:

- Title
- Author information and affiliations
- Abstract
- Keywords
- Introduction
- Literature Review
- Methodology
- Results / Findings
- Discussion
- Conclusion
- Acknowledgements, where applicable
- Funding statement
- Conflict of interest statement
- Ethical compliance statement, where applicable
- Data availability statement, where applicable
- References

Authors should ensure that all tables, figures, and other supporting materials are clearly presented, numbered, titled, and referred to appropriately in the manuscript.

Originality

Manuscripts submitted to KANI must represent original work. A manuscript should not have been published previously or be under consideration for publication by another journal.

Authorship

All listed authors should have made a substantial scholarly contribution to the research, approved the submitted manuscript, and agreed to its submission.

Research Ethics

Authors are responsible for ensuring that their research complies with applicable ethical requirements. Where research involves human participants, personal data, or other ethically sensitive material, appropriate ethical approval or safeguards should be identified where applicable.

References

Authors are responsible for ensuring that references are accurate, complete, consistently formatted, and appropriately cited within the manuscript.

Submission

Manuscripts should be submitted through the journal's designated online submission system in accordance with the journal's submission procedures.

Authors should complete and submit all required declarations and supporting documents.

Editorial and Peer Review

Submitted manuscripts may undergo an initial editorial assessment before being sent for peer review. Manuscripts considered suitable for review are evaluated in accordance with the journal's peer-review procedures.

Editorial decisions are based on scholarly quality, originality, relevance, methodological soundness, and the reviewers' assessments.

Author Responsibility

Authors remain responsible for the accuracy, originality, integrity, and ethical compliance of their submitted work.